Description

Design description

KOP F is a wall lamp that combines technical precision with minimalist elegance. A simple, vertical base in a structured black finish provides a subtle backdrop for the slender, cylindrical reflector. The use of a flexible braided cable gives the lamp a slightly industrial feel, while providing a seamless transition between functionality and aesthetics. KOP F will prove useful where precision of light and economy of form count - as a modern lighting accent in a bedroom, hallway or hotel space.

Lamp components and functionality

The KOP F wall lamp is made of a metal base and a spotlight mounted on a movable joint, which allows you to precisely direct the light beam. The body of the spotlight is supported by a flexible cable in black textile braid, which provides additional mobility and reinforces the industrial character of the lamp.

A light source with a GU10 cap (max. 10W LED) ensures energy efficiency and the ability to choose the right color temperature and angle of light. The whole lamp is made of powder-coated metal in black (Jet Black RAL 9005) or white (RAL 9003), with a matte, fine-grained texture.

Application and IP20 protection class

KOP F is an excellent choice as a bedside reading lamp, lighting accent by the mirror, in the hallway or commercial areas. Its adjustable reflector makes it possible to direct the light precisely where it is needed. The IP20 rating makes it ideal for dry interiors - living rooms, bedrooms and halls.

The lamp fits in with the aesthetics of the KOP collection, making it possible to create cohesive, multi-element lighting compositions throughout the interior.

Handmade and unique character

Each piece of KOP F is assembled by hand, ensuring a high quality finish and individual character. This precision craftsmanship translates into durability and aesthetic consistency with other lamps in the KOP collection. Thanks to the handmade process, each lamp carries a unique trace of the creative process - going beyond its utilitarian function and becoming an integral part of the interior design.

It is distinguished by

- Modern, streamlined form with cylindrical reflector.
- Movable pivot for adjusting the direction of light.
- Stylish, flexible braided cable - function and decoration.
- Choice of finish: deep black RAL 9005 or classic white RAL 9003.
- Compatible with interchangeable GU10 light sources (LED max 10W).
- Consistency with the KOP collection - easy juxtaposition with other models in the series.
