Design description

Kello A is a pendant lamp inspired by Japanese minimalism, dressed in Polish sensitivity to detail. Its design is a harmonious juxtaposition of geometry and natural accents: a hemispherical metal lampshade contrasts with a subtle wooden ball made of ash - an ornament that gives the whole a warm and unique character. The central milky-white glass shade gently diffuses the light, creating a pleasant aura and soft glow.

Kello means "clock" in Estonian. Although Kello lamps don't indicate the time, they certainly turn every second into a great(!) time! It's lighting that doesn't shout, but exudes tranquility and elegance - it will fit perfectly in Japanese spaces, as well as in retro, loft or modern interiors.

Lamp components and functionality

KELLO A combines three materials - metal, glass and wood - into a coherent, visually balanced form. The lamp is equipped with a polyester braided cord and a metal round headliner with a diameter of 12 cm. Its dimensions are 27 x 27 x 66.4 cm. The lighting is available in two classic color options:

pure white RAL 9003 or deep black RAL 9005. The white glass lampshade (Ø15 cm) harmonizes beautifully with the ash ball. The lamp has an interchangeable light source with G9 thread (LED max 12W), which allows you to choose the right color and intensity of light according to the needs of the interior.

Application and IP20 protection class

KELLO A pendant lamp is designed for dry interiors, with IP20 protection class. It will be perfect over a dining room table, in a relaxation area in the living room, over a kitchen island (away from steam and moisture) or in an elegant office. Its aesthetics suit spaces where design and functionality go hand in hand. The lamp can be mounted individually or in compositions - for example, in sets of several pieces over a long countertop or counter.

There is also a triple variant of the pendant lamp - KELLO B, which will be ideal for larger rooms and commercial interiors. The entire series is complemented by the KELLO ST table lamp and KELLO C wall lamp, with which it is easy to build a coherent set of lighting within a single space - combining decorative, utilitarian and atmospheric functions into a harmonious whole.

Handcrafted and unique character

Each lamp in the Kello collection is assembled by hand to order, with attention to detail and quality of finish. This is a product for those who value individuality and conscious design - not mass production. The ash wood used in the decorative sphere is natural, so each piece has a unique grain pattern.

Why will you love it?

- Because it combines Japanese simplicity, Nordic moderation and a touch of warmth in the form of natural wood.
- Because the diffused light of the glass shade creates an atmosphere of calm and concentration.
- Because it fits perfectly into many styles - from japandi to modern loft.
- Because each piece is created by hand - it is a lamp with soul.
- Because its form is timeless, and its functionality is adapted to everyday life.
