Description

A walk on a tightrope, i.e. lamps from the SUGURI collection, which were created as part of the cooperation between the UMMO brand and the SALAK studio. Hanging lamps from this series are based on a metal frame on which milky white glass balls have grown. Suguri in Japanese means currant. It was the twig with these fruits that inspired the design of the collection. The luminaires are available in universal black and white in as many as four variants: with a single, double, triple or quadruple light source. Reach for lighting from the SUGURI collection and see how your home will result in stylish light.
