Description

Design description

KUUL G is another installment of the series, in which the spherical form plays the first fiddle. This time the designer opted for a perfect balance between subtlety and expressiveness - the lamp resembles a smaller version of the KUUL E model, equipped with a 20 cm diameter shade.

The distinctive glass sphere with a milky finish is suspended from a long textile cord, which gives the fixture a modern and light expression. The lamp catches the eye with its simplicity, but this is what makes it a universal accessory - suitable for interiors maintained in both minimalist, japanese and classic styles.

It is available in three color versions: deep black RAL 9005, pure white RAL 9003 and elegant burgundy RAL 3004 - each of which gives it a different character, from austere elegance to cozy warmth.

Lamp components and functionality

KUUL G consists of a round glass shade with a diameter of 20 cm made of milky white glass, which gently diffuses light and eliminates glare. The lamp is suspended from a 112.5 cm long black braided cable, which allows height adjustment during installation.

The whole is crowned with a mount made of metal, powder-coated with a structured finish. The light source hidden inside the shade is an E27 thread (up to 15W LED), which allows you to choose your favorite color and intensity of light.

Thanks to its symmetry and proportions, KUUL G can be used both individually and in a group arrangement - for example, over a kitchen island, table or as a lighting accent in a living room or bedroom.

Application and protection class IP20 / IP44

KUUL G is available in two variants: with an IP20 rating, dedicated to dry spaces, and IP44, which provides additional protection against moisture - ideal, for example, for kitchens or bathrooms outside the zone of direct contact with water.

This makes it not only decorative, but also functional - it will work well in both domestic and commercial projects (restaurants, cafes, hotels), where stylistic consistency and durability matter.

Handmade and unique character

Each lamp in the KUUL series is assembled by hand, which translates into careful workmanship, quality of finish and individual character of the product. The artisanal approach gives each piece a uniqueness that sets it apart from mass production.

KUUL G is not just lighting - it is a design element that builds mood and adds character to a space.
